CONCERTS

- Sun/Sept. 20 4:00 pm Michelson and Morley, both of whom were musicians, will be honored in a recital of works by J. S. Bach, Rheinberger, Liszt, Schroeder, and Richard N. Stewart (first performance), performed by Daniel Majeske, concertmaster of The Cleveland Orchestra, and organist Karel Paukert, the Museum's chief curator of musical arts.
- Wed/Oct. 28 8:00 pm Two works will be premiered in a concert by The Cleveland Institute of Music Chamber Orchestra: a work for violin, synthesizer, harp, and percussion composed and conducted by Donald Erb, with David Cerone as violin soloist, commissioned by Ruth R. Miller in honor of Albert A. Michelson; and a concerto for organ and chamber orchestra, composed and conducted by Karel Husa, with Karel Paukert as organ soloist, commissioned by Dorothy Humel Hovorka in memory of Frank Hovorka and in honor of Edward W. Morley. The concert will also include Stravinsky's Pulcinella, conducted by Louis Lane.
